

Calling all NYC DOE Staff:

Help Design the First DOE-Wide Energy Saving Sticker

The DOE Office of Sustainability is looking for DOE Staff to design our first ever energy saving sticker, and we need your help!

What: Three winners will be chosen to have their energy saving designs created into stickers and distributed across schools in all five boroughs.

Details: Participants can submit as many designs as they'd like. Designs should be unique, creative, and can include energy saving ideas, such as: turn off the air conditioner, turn off the lights, unplug the smartboard, etc.

Sticker Specs: Stickers must be exactly 2 inches by 4.5 inches. Stickers can be either horizontal or vertical. The sticker will be whole and should not include a hole for a light switch.

Acceptable Artwork: Use the second page of this form to draw your own design and mail in the artwork, or use a computer to create a graphic design (all file types accepted) and email it for submission.

Submission Deadline: Stickers must be submitted by Friday, May 4th, 2018.

Graphic design file(s), please send via email to LWilliams85@schools.nyc.gov

Hand drawn artwork, please mail to:

Let's update the City's sticker, with a DOE specific energy saving design!
